the motion to strike out was lost by a vote of $5$ to $7$.

In speaking to a verbal amendment Mr. Kelly, of Kansas replied to a remark made by Mr. Allen, of Mississippi, to the effect that some of the newly appointed postnasters in Mississippi had moved their effices out of the towns into the country. Thinking there must be some reason for this, he (Mr. Kelly) had gone to the Postoflice Department and had been informed that in some places it was impossible for a Republican postnaster to secure a location in a town, and he was obliged to go to the country.

As an instance of the manner in which some Republican postnasters were treated in the South he read a letter some Republican postmasters were treated in the South he read a letter from W. A. Finley, appointed in May as postmaster at Abbeville, S. C., wko Mesars. McKae and Rogers, of Ark, however, stated that his son was involved in such a litigation. In the discussion which ensued there was a great deal of confusion and fun, Mr. Kelly being bombarded with questions, and replying to them in kind. Neither questions nor answers had the slightest reference to the appropriation.

Mr. Tarsney inquired if in a speech made by Mr. Kelly in a public hall in Washington he had used the expression that a "white girl was just as good as a colored girl."

Mr. Kelly replied that he did not re mber; but that he would say it on this floor, a white girl was just as good as a colored. He defied the gentleman from Missouri to deny it. [Laughter.] Mr. Allen, of Mississippi, said that the
